Smoke on Fort Stewart Cantonment

FORT STEWART, Ga. (July 24, 2007) - The Fort Stewart area is currently experiencing drift smoke from fires burning on Wassaw and Ossabaw barrier islands near Savannah. The fires continue to burn and smoke should be expected on Fort Stewart until winds shift.

Also, a small fire in the vicinity of Austin Road and Chickamauga Road on Fort Stewart's Cantonment was suppressed yesterday by Fort Stewart's Forestry Branch and will continue to smolder until rainfall extinguishes it.

Fort Stewart Forestry asks that continued safety measures be utilized with sources of ignition, as Coastal Georgia is still in a serious fire condition.
